The Beautiful Bloom

Part 1: Petals of a Beautiful Bloom

- ⊗ Think of your favorite flower.

The analogy of a Christian woman and a floral bloom: both have deep, healthy roots, are growing and changing, and have a dynamic yet layered beauty made up of different petals (or attributes). The strength for growing comes from within. Each flower is uniquely different in outward appearance. Some blooms are dense with numerous petals; some blooms have just a handful of petals. Both, the Christian woman—you—and a flower are uniquely beautiful. What kind of bloom are you?

- ⊗ “Grow a flower” exercise

We'll find attributes of a beautiful Christian woman from the Bible.

After this simple exercise, ask yourself, “What kind of bloom am I? Where do I need some pruning? Am I missing some petals I think I should have? Do I need some more Miracle Gro’ fertilizer (the Word).”

Part II: “The Intimidator” . . . Proverbs 31 Woman

The Proverbs 31 woman can intimidate any of us. She seems like Super Woman! Rather than being overwhelmed by all she accomplishes, look at her attitude. What permeates the chapter is her attitude of eagerness, of strength, of absolute delight in planning, executing, and enjoying the fruit of her labor. The attitude of the heart is key!

It's helpful to know that Wisdom is personified as this woman. She is the “wife of noble character.” She demonstrates many of the qualities and values identified with wisdom throughout the book of Proverbs. (Qualities a young man was told to look for when choosing a wife.)

Read through Proverbs 31:10-31.

What particularly impresses you about her?

Part III: Spiritual Gifts

“Each one should use whatever gift he has received to serve others, faithfully administering God’s grace in its various forms.” 1 Peter 4:10

Spiritual gifts are those special abilities given to all Christians to build up the fellowship and ministry of the church. Many Christians make pain-causing mistakes about spiritual gifts. Some people assume that only certain believers are gifted—for example, those who speak or sing well. But this assumption ignores the critical truth that the encouragers, administrators, and givers are just as powerfully gifted by our Almighty God compared to the more visible leaders and teachers. The Bible shows us that every Christian is gifted and valuable and needed in the church. You are one of them!

Other people recognize that they have spiritual gifts, but then refuse to use or refine their gifts. They forget that the work of understanding and using a spiritual gift is well worth the effort. As each believer contributes his or her gift, the church discovers even better ways to care for each other and to draw attention to God.

A. 1 Corinthians 12:1-11 Working Together

1. Describe a relationship you have with another Christian that is interdependent—you need them and they need you.

2. What is the main truth to understand about the source of spiritual gifts (verses 4-6)? Why is this critical to know?

3. What do the words service and working reveal about the nature of the gifts the Spirit bestows (verses 4-6)?

B. Ephesians 4:1-16 Unity in the Body of Christ

Ever put a puzzle together with someone else? Working on a 1000-piece puzzle can be a challenge. Maybe assembling the border is your specialty, while a child or friend helps study the other pieces and tries to get them to fit. As you work together, an unhurried discussion naturally begins. Sitting around that puzzle brings a level of sharing that happens rarely in our busy lives. If you both did not contribute your efforts, the puzzle experience wouldn't be complete.

In a similar way, expression of our spiritual gifts is carried out by trying again and again to see how they fit together in unity with others. Paul compares the members of God's church to parts of a human body: we're all interrelated and interdependent.

4. What are the purposes of spiritual gifts according to verses 11-16?

5. If Christians are given these spiritual gifts listed in Eph. 4, what dangers are there in not using the gifts given (verse 14)?

6. How does the picture of one body with many parts encourage you in expressing your spiritual gift?

Paul continues the metaphor for the church as one body with many parts.
Read 1 Cor. 12:21-25

7. All churches contain some people who feel like they don't belong and other people who are certain they do belong. What does Paul recommend for cultivating harmony between these two groups? Between two individuals?

8. “Concern” (v. 25) is something we feel more often than we express. What actions would show that you really care about what’s happening in another believer’s life?

C. Romans 12:1-8

Humility

Pride can lead to ugly power struggles and people-abuse. The truth is all Christians are equally important vessels through whom God works, no matter how spectacular or commonplace their gifts seem. We let God do this work through us.

9. What attitude is recommended for a healthy expression of spiritual gifts (verse 3)?

A low self-evaluation of ourselves produces hesitance to use the gift God has given (too much humility). A too-high evaluation of ourselves leads to self-promotion rather than God’s glory (brazen). Be aware that these two opposites threaten the expression of spiritual gifts. We strive to be in the middle!

10. Name a reason God gives different gifts (verses 4-6).

11. The list of spiritual gifts Paul names in verses 6-8 is: prophesying; serving; teaching; encouraging; contributing towards others; leadership; showing mercy.

- ⊗ It’s important to be able to recognize our own spiritual gifts.
- ⊗ Do you identify with any of these particular gifts? In what way?
- ⊗ If not, name a different gift God has given unique to you.

D. 1 Peter 4:7-11 Called to be Faithful

Have you ever felt that it might be better not to use your spiritual gifts, rather than risk hurting someone by using it the wrong way? Fears can keep us from reaching out. But spiritual gifts are not land mines that will explode if we step in the wrong place. They’re more like prized roses that grow stronger and more beautiful with each pruning. Certainly all roses have thorns, and someone may bleed because of a well-meaning but hurtful misuse of a gift. But rather than miss the blooms, God urges us to deliver our “roses” carefully and faithfully.

12. What fears keep you from using your spiritual gifts?

13. What actions are listed here that increases the probability that we will express our spiritual gift in a helpful rather than harmful way?

14. If spiritual gifts were like a three-legged stool, what should some of the “legs” (attitudes) supporting the use of our gifts be? (verses 7-8, 10)

Personal Reflection ~

This personal exercise can be a big benefit to you! It can help yourself and others in your church. It broadens the view of the many different ways spiritual gifts can be used. Go through it on your own time; do it with a friend—don't skip it!!!

With these attitudes and actions in mind, think through how some of the spiritual gifts could express themselves in loving ways for God's glory.

Personal Reflection~

Thinking about the 3 main thoughts we just discussed in this hour, they are (1) attributes of a God-fearing, Christian woman, (2) example of beautiful Wisdom demonstrated through Super Woman of Prov. 31, and (3) spiritual gifts. Write your personal description of a Beautiful Bloom.

Closing Prayer

Dear Heavenly Father,

You have made us like a Beautiful Bloom. For our own uniqueness, we praise and thank you! Today we humbly ask you to be our constant Gardener, growing unselfishness, humility, a spirit of joyful service to others, and deep concern demonstrated for the believers in our own church and people around us. Keep our attitudes lifted up in every task we do. Often we are negligent in recognizing and using our own spiritual gifts that you are growing in us and through us. Please help us to find our gifts, and use them with confidence. Open our eyes to the talents our friends possess and give us wisdom to encourage them to use their own unique giftedness to bring glory to you, too.

In Jesus' name we pray, Amen
